We need to make women independent in order to rejuvenate themselves in all aspects of mind, thought, rights, decisions, etc. by leaving all the battle of the sexes. Gender equitable societies are healthier for the society and for the growth. As feminism challenges restrictive gender norms, improvements for health care and awareness in women, reproductive rights, and protection from violence have positive effects in the world and also it rejuvenates life expectancy and well-being, especially children. Without women, men would not exist. Thus, the survival of the men can only be possible because of the lifeline women have given them and made it possible to have created life. They are the ones who are fighting against "Survival for the fittest". Women are actually combating in every single aspect of life as well as for every single position in the society. Despite the odds, time and again they have emerged as winners. Though it is not at all easy to be multi-tasking, and no other species is as capable as women who for centuries have managed and supervised things easily without ever revealing a sense of fatigue. This paper aims at exploring empowerment of women and highlighting their abilities in each and every aspect of feminism in present scenario. My endeavour is to show case that they can be the ones who can lead the world through their amazing potential and abilities. A woman has the capacity to be patient and relatively calmer in any situation. She's a wonder that is beheld by the universe and progress can only be possible with her. Today we see women playing important roles in every sphere and emerging triumphant with confidence because they sure have the potential to emerge as the most skilful and vibrant leaders. Feminists respect individual, informed choices and believe there shouldn't be a double standard in judging a person.

Introduction

We need to make women independent in order to rejuvenate themselves in all aspects from mind, thought, rights, decisions, etc. by leaving all battle of the sexes. Without women, men would not exist. Thus, the survival of the men can only be possible because of the lifeline women have given them and made it possible to have created life. They are the ones who are fighting against "Survival for the fittest". Women are actually combating in every single aspect of life as well as for every single position in the society. Despite the odds, time and again they have emerged as winners. Though it is not at all easy to be multi-tasking, and no other species is as capable as women who for centuries have managed and supervised things easily without ever revealing a sense of fatigue.

This paper is aiming at empowering women and highlighting their abilities in each and every aspect and show casing that they can be the one who can lead and as a warrior lead the world through their amazing potential and abilities. Women's have the capacity to be patient and relatively calmer in any situation. She's a wonder that has beheld the universe and the progression can only be possible with her. They are playing the great role in every sphere and emerging as a combatant with fierceness and the potential to emerge as the most skillful and vibrant leaders.

Discussion and Analysis

We all know that girls are now doing better than boys at school. The annual results of Higher Secondary Board examinations reveal this fact. Women are getting more degrees than men, and are filling most new jobs in every field.

There was a time when girl education was not a priority even among the elite. Since the last of the 20th century and also further many things are opening after post-1991, a growing number of women have been entering into the economic field, seeking paid work (remunerative jobs) outside the family which is really helpful for women.

Women are playing bigger and greater role in economic field: as engineer, workers, consumers, entrepreneurs, investors, and managers. According to a report of The Economist, 'Women and the World Economy', in 1950, only one-third of American women of working age had a paid job. By pooja mondal Woman is the companion of man, gifted with equal mental capacity.”

Women are growing everywhere you look -- from the CEO who runs a Fortune 500 company to the housewife who raises her children and heads her household. Our country was built by strong women, and we will continue to break down walls and defy stereotypes Nobody can make you feel inferior without your permission.”

Women have served all these centuries as looking glasses possessing the magic and an amazing power of reflecting the figure of a man at twice its natural size the thing women have yet to learn is nobody gives you power.
 You just take it

I believe that it is as much a right and duty for a women to do something with their lives as for men and we are not going to be satisfied with such frivolous parts as you give us the fastest way to change society is to mobilize the women of the world

The stereotypes that have been made by these unworthy people should be defied and need to change the way that, society generally puts men on a pedestal. 2013 has been the year of change and static employment opportunities for women. We need to leave this battle of sexes in order to emerge has the nation of morality and up gradation.

We need to make women independent in order to rejuvenate themselves in all aspects from mind, thought, rights, decisions, etc. by leaving all battle of the sexes. We can see the live example in “paradise lost” Where Adam or eve that is more powerful and carried importance in the debate that we have now also. The difference between the sexes can definitely co-relate that women are most definitely, totally, for sure, 100% better than men. We can easily accept the notion of women being the one who have all the physical strength, may be if it is to give the life on this earth and to carry all the jobs or making home or leading life. Women can easily carry out situation without getting hyper or freaking out in comparison men do.
 Women’s have the sense of reorganization of calamities and can easily get through the situation. As there are many novels that can easily prove the abilities of women in every field of life.

It is not at all easy to be doing double tasking, not anyone can manage and supervise things as easily as women without a sense of fatigue or burden manages and leads. Have you ever seen a man, talk on the phone, feed a baby, cook dinner and manage laundry all at the same time? Women’s are best in managing things and that to in the best possible way, on average men tend to violate traffic codes more dangerously than women do, thus this causes the adrenal gland to produce more. This causes physical, chemical, and thermal stress. Maybe this is why women live longer. Women’s have the capacity to be patient and relatively calmer in a situation. We all need to admit this fact of women being the best from ages long and need to give them recognition in each and every individual field.

Men may have written many of the Theorems but it can never be possible without coming into existence that the women’s have given them birth it’s debatable, but seriously doubtful. Without women, men would not exist. Thus, the survival of the men can only be possible because of the lifeline women have given them and made it possible to have Women can create life. What more is needed to be said? That’s a wonder to behold. Scientist has actually been trying for years to create life, but have failed at every attempt. The battle between the nature and science will always have proven that nature triumphs over the science. Ages have proved that what nature can provide to you can never be done by science

In MALTILDA, she is the one that have actually overcome the troubles and problem but more importantly, she taught her telekinesis and messed with people in hilariously clever ways you can never judge a book by its cover and girls have always this potential to better lead in every sphere. They need to be given the ultimate platform to show case their talent so that they can emerge as the spark light in the dimly night. They are the warriors and can fight every battle if they are being given the opportunities.

“Women rule the world. It's not really worth fighting because they know what they're doing.
 Ask Napoleon. Ask Adam. Ask Richard Burton or Richie Sambora. Many a man has crumbled.” – Jon Bon Jovi

Women's are the best when it comes to fashion and setting trend in the country. Despite the economic recession females are actually helping the economy by sharing their contribution to the economy and helping our world to be the powerful. Which do you think would make the economy dwindle more: if all men around the world stopped working for a day or if all the women around the world stopped shopping for a day? It is to bring equality in the society for both male and female in all areas. Empowering women is the need of society to bring everything into the right platform and helping and contributing to the family needs, children. Women's need to have more safer environment to get recognition and fame in every field, so that, family, society or country can approve them, in order to make a country fully developed and have the best abilities of the women to be displayed in each and every field and sphere of the academics, political and economic zone.

The women need to be the one who gave the birth and bring life to this world. They have the power to either reincarnate or destroy a soul. A person can be great only when the women nurtures and up bring him or her to the level where they get worthy and can show the potential of being the one with the potential.

Conclusion

Now, the question arises who has a higher tolerance for pain? I'm going to go with women on this one. One need to agree with the fact that now the women's is now emerging as a warrior in every field. They are playing the great role in every sphere and emerging as a combatant with fierceness and the potential to emerge as the most skillful and vibrant leaders. Authors writing in different fields merely competing in different genres whether it is classical, contemporary, action, drama and history. They are the one who are fighting as "Survival for the fittest" is the technique and new ideology that one is aiming for and the women are actually combating in every single place and as a winner triumphing that. Can approve them, in order to make a country fully developed and have the best abilities of the women to be displayed in each and every field and sphere of the academics, political and economic zone.

Reading novels has always been form of escapism for me. A great gap in our understanding of the influence of women on literary genre and style could be bridged as quoted by Jane Austin.

As in pride and prejudice, Elizabeth also prides herself on being a good judge of character. (This from a girl who's twenty years old, and she is good at reading situations. When she watches Mr. Collins sidle up to Mr. Darcy, she can tell how it's going even from across the room:

Narnia is an example of a mere girl proving her to be the most brave and confident. She's an inspiration and motivation for the girls where for men fear to trade even her brother refused to accept and believe her that she actually has discovered magical land via a wardrobe but later on she was the one who was being entitled as a queen of Narnia and that proves no matter if the society believes or not, if a person has to lead, she finds the ultimate way to conquer and triumph

I loved Hermione Granger from the moment she introduced herself on the Hogwarts Express. Here was a girl my same age that wasn't afraid to openly declare her love for studying and reading, a badass who found a group of true friends who accepted her as she was. Hermione helped me embrace my inner nerd, and I never again felt too embarrassed to put my hand up in class to answer a question.

The best of all Harry Potter series has an immense impact and aura on the mind of children and youth. The girl who's obsessed with books, love for reading and writing have never been dominated by the school kids or the society. Maybe she's belonging to a normal middle-class family but she has built herself by the techniques and the confidence she upholds in herself that have actually given wings to the girls who are watching her and getting inspired from her.

Through centuries past, women have been looked down upon by men, but the future is in their hands now. The days where men are the breadwinners of the family are a thing of the past. Men, you may be physically stronger, but in today's times, it's your emotional stability that makes you superior.
